Looking for ways to escape, feel at ease – leave everyday life behind and gain new energy. The bathroom is a place of beauty and awareness, a place where we can find ourselves. It is an aesthetic retreat for personal well-being, wherein water can be experienced through all the senses.

Over a decade ago, the first Starck bathroom started a revolution. A place of mere hygienic functionality was turned into a new personal retreat. The bathroom as a living space was born – full of warmth and personality. This transformation continues.

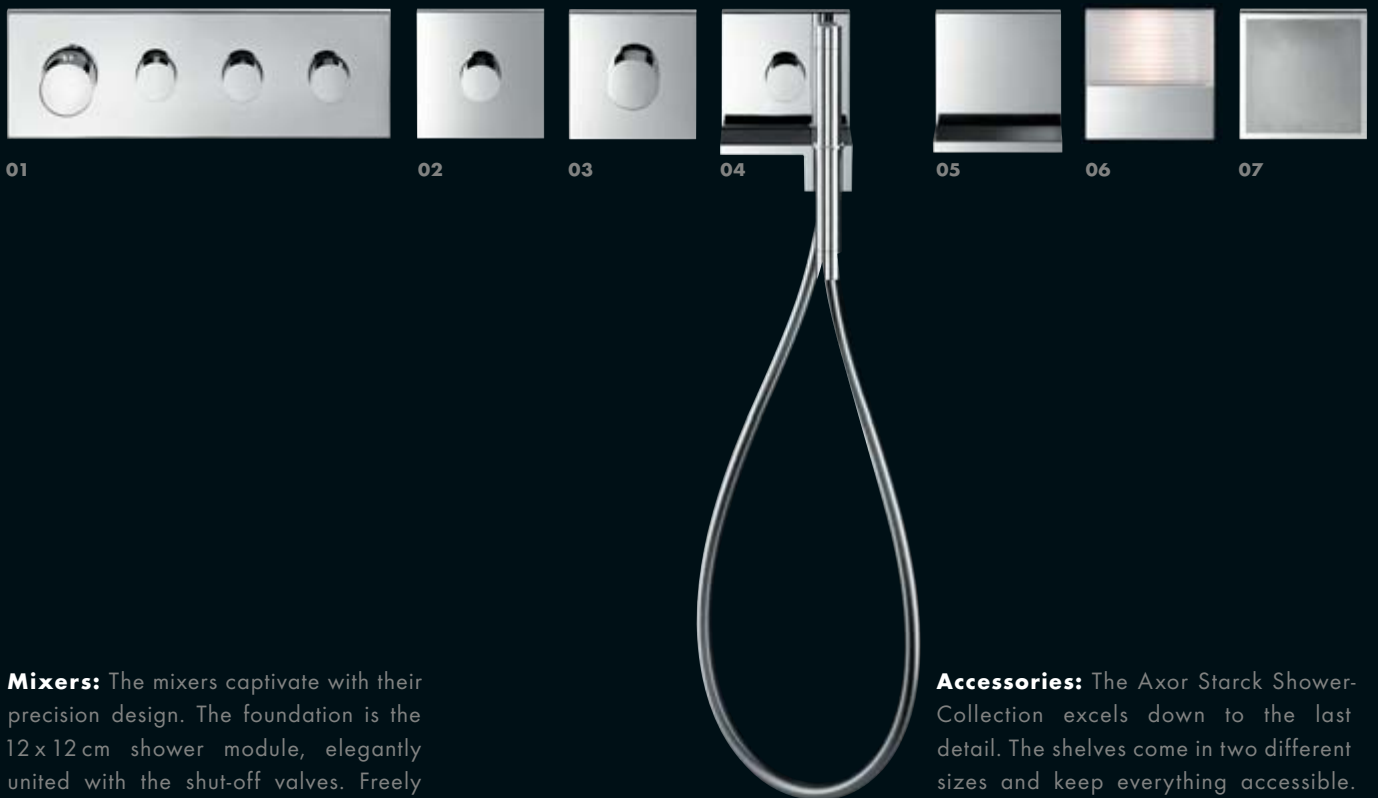

“It’s time to redefine the shower”, says Philippe Starck. His new focus is on the shower as a central element of personal well-being in the bathroom. Again, design, functionality and space interact with each other in a stunning combination. The shower becomes a custom-made spa. The clarity and consistency of this expressive collection offer a bounty of design possibilities. Another revolution? No. All modesty aside, we are introducing haute couture for the shower.

The principle: 12 x 12 cm. The possibilities: almost infinite. The result: unparalleled design freedom! Whether the modules be horizontally centred, positioned vertically or arranged in balanced asymmetry. Whether it be mixers, showers, shelves, loudspeakers or lighting. Everything is modular and absolutely flexible in its positioning. The Axor Starck ShowerCollection offers a system for individual well-being. It is the beginning of a fresh lifestyle in the bathroom. Personality expressed through geometry.

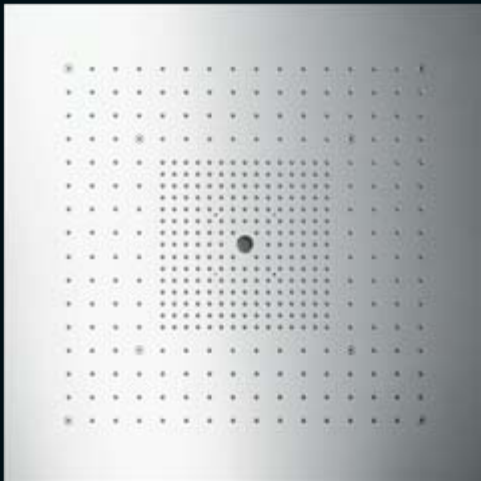

Mixers: The mixers captivate with their precision design. The foundation is the 12 x 12 cm shower module, elegantly united with the shut-off valves. Freely combinable units are available for the individual add-on functions. Especially elegant: a hand shower in combination with an integrated shut-off valve.

Accessories: The Axor Starck ShowerCollection excels down to the last detail. The shelves come in two different sizes and keep everything accessible. The loudspeakers allow you to enjoy your favourite music, turning your shower into a new experience. The atmospheric lighting eases the stress of a hectic lifestyle and exudes a sensual, harmonious ambiance.

Showers: The 12 x 12 cm shower module presents water in a sleek geometric design – whether in the form of an overhead, shoulder or side shower. In this custom-made shower, your needs are all that count. The elegant geometry in polished stainless steel transforms the ShowerHeaven into a luxurious architectural design element. Two different sizes, three spray modes and optional lighting provide pure sensuality in the shower.

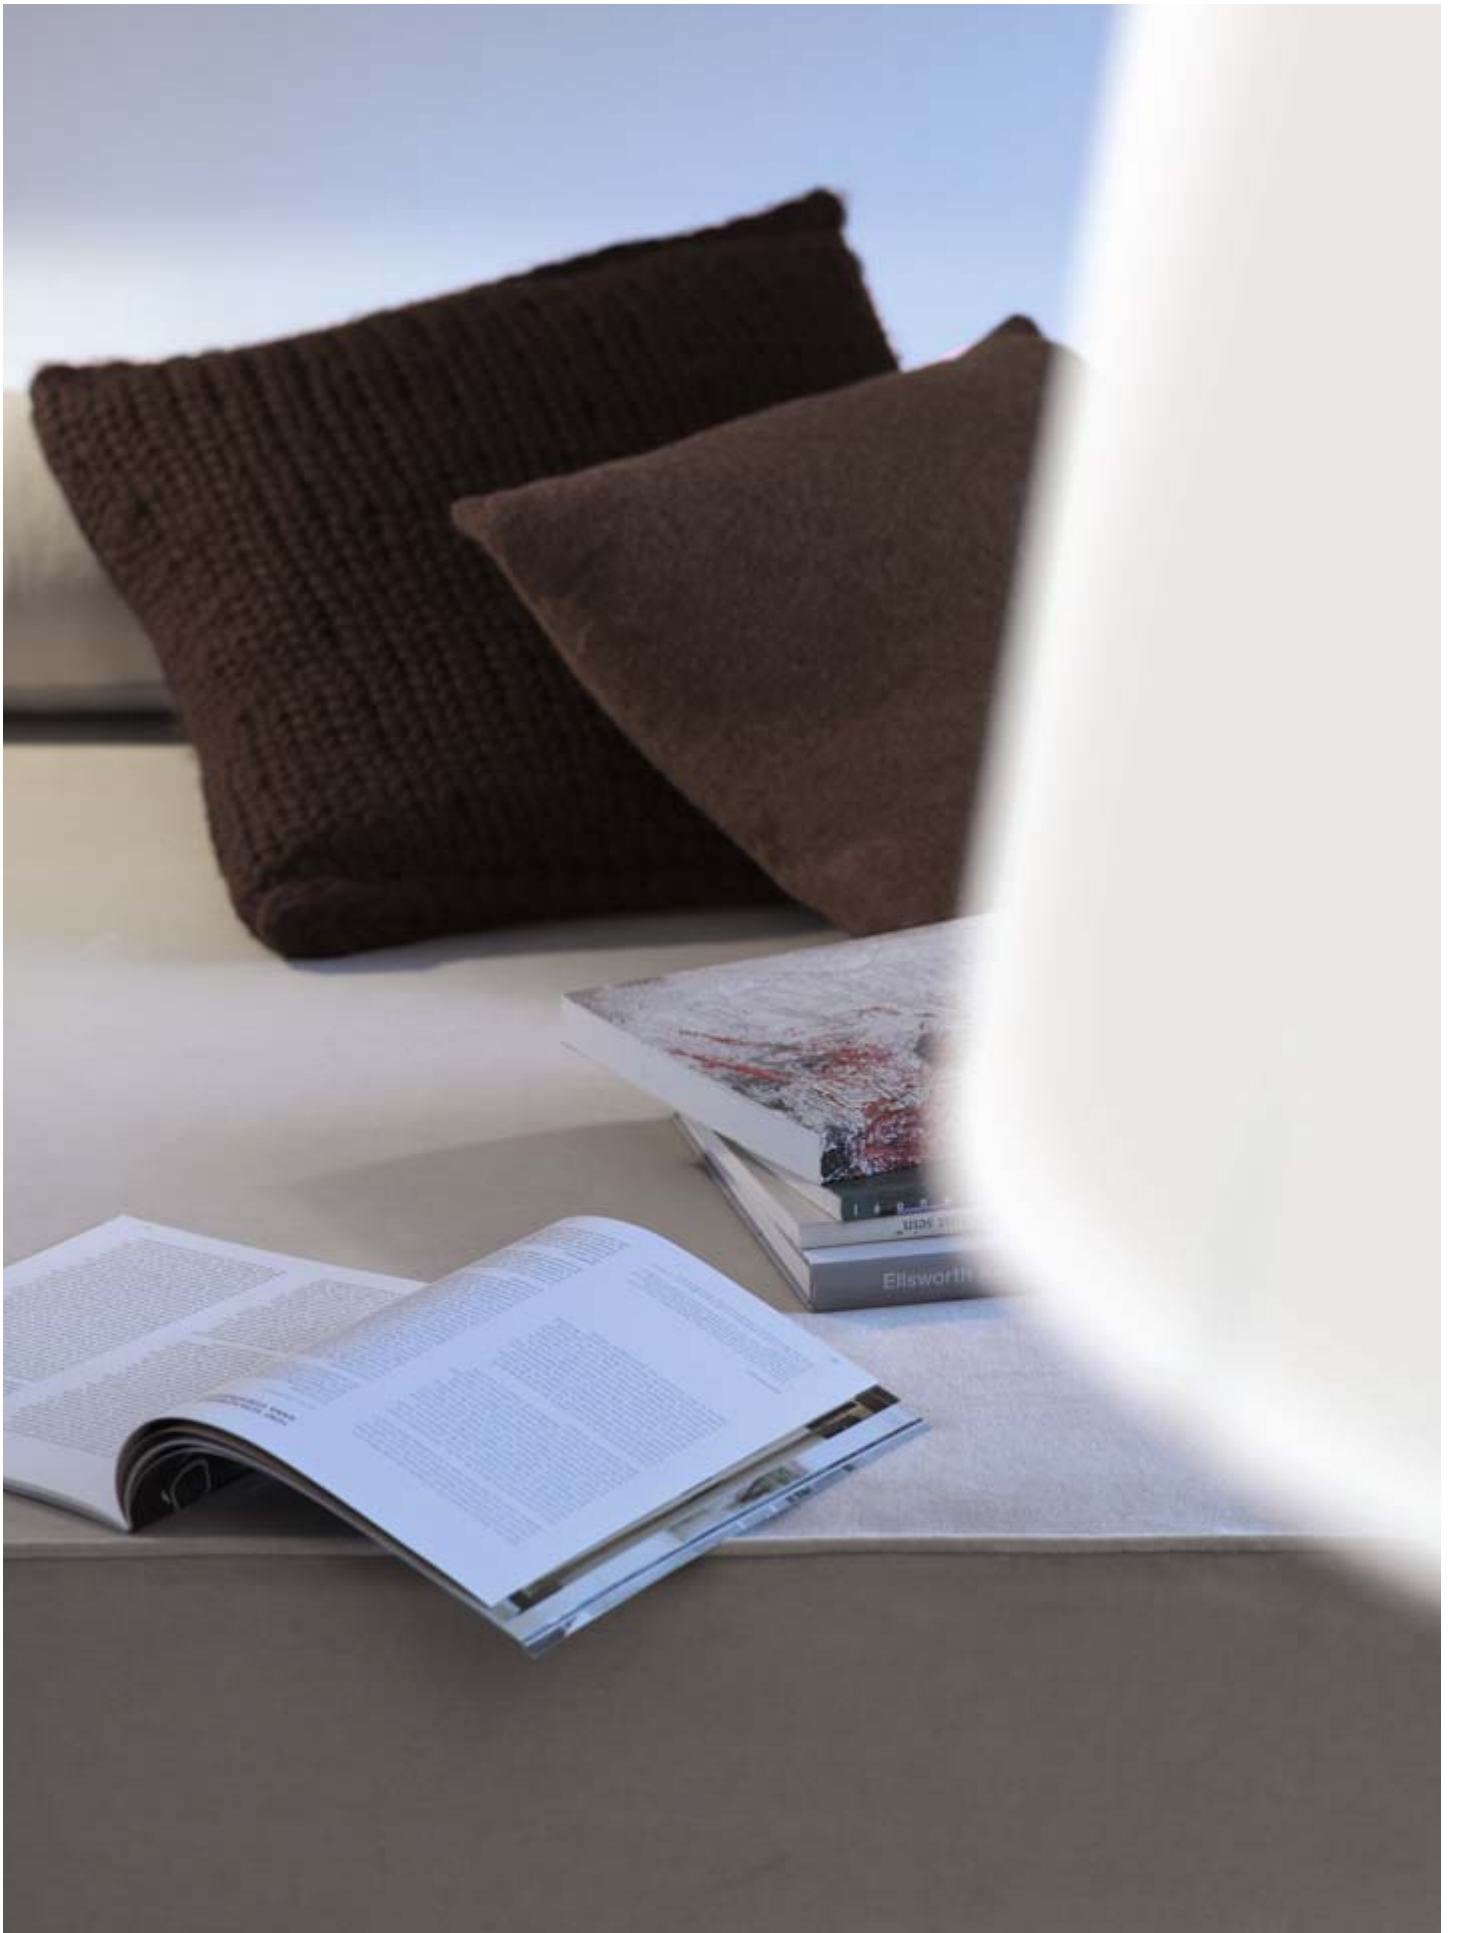

With its three spray modes, the ShowerHeaven offers pure sensuality. They can be enjoyed individually or in combination, according to your desires.

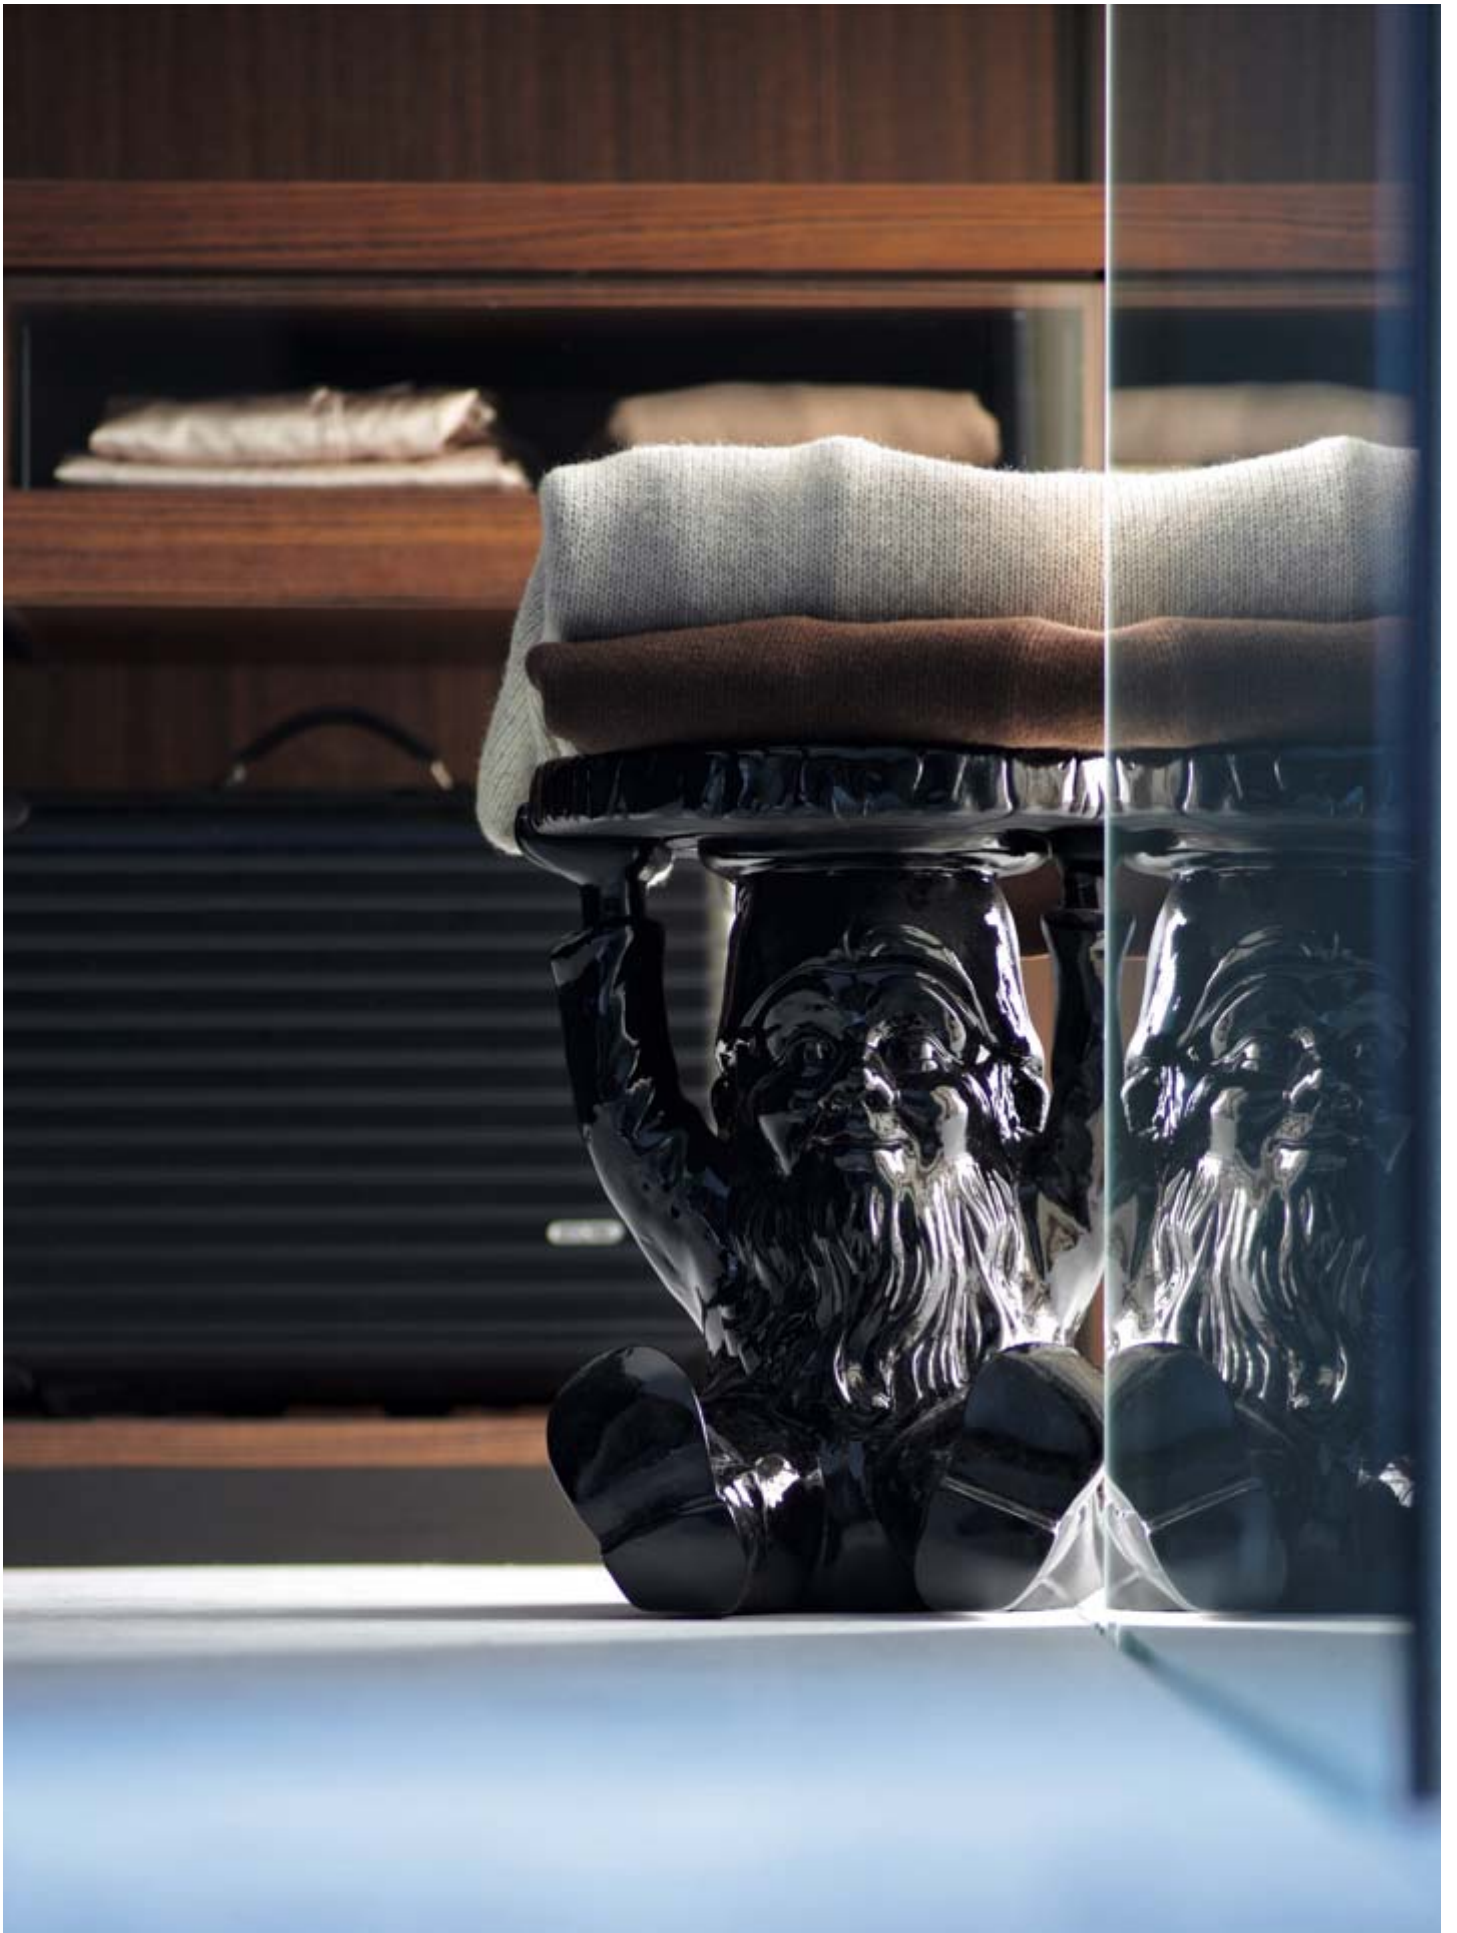

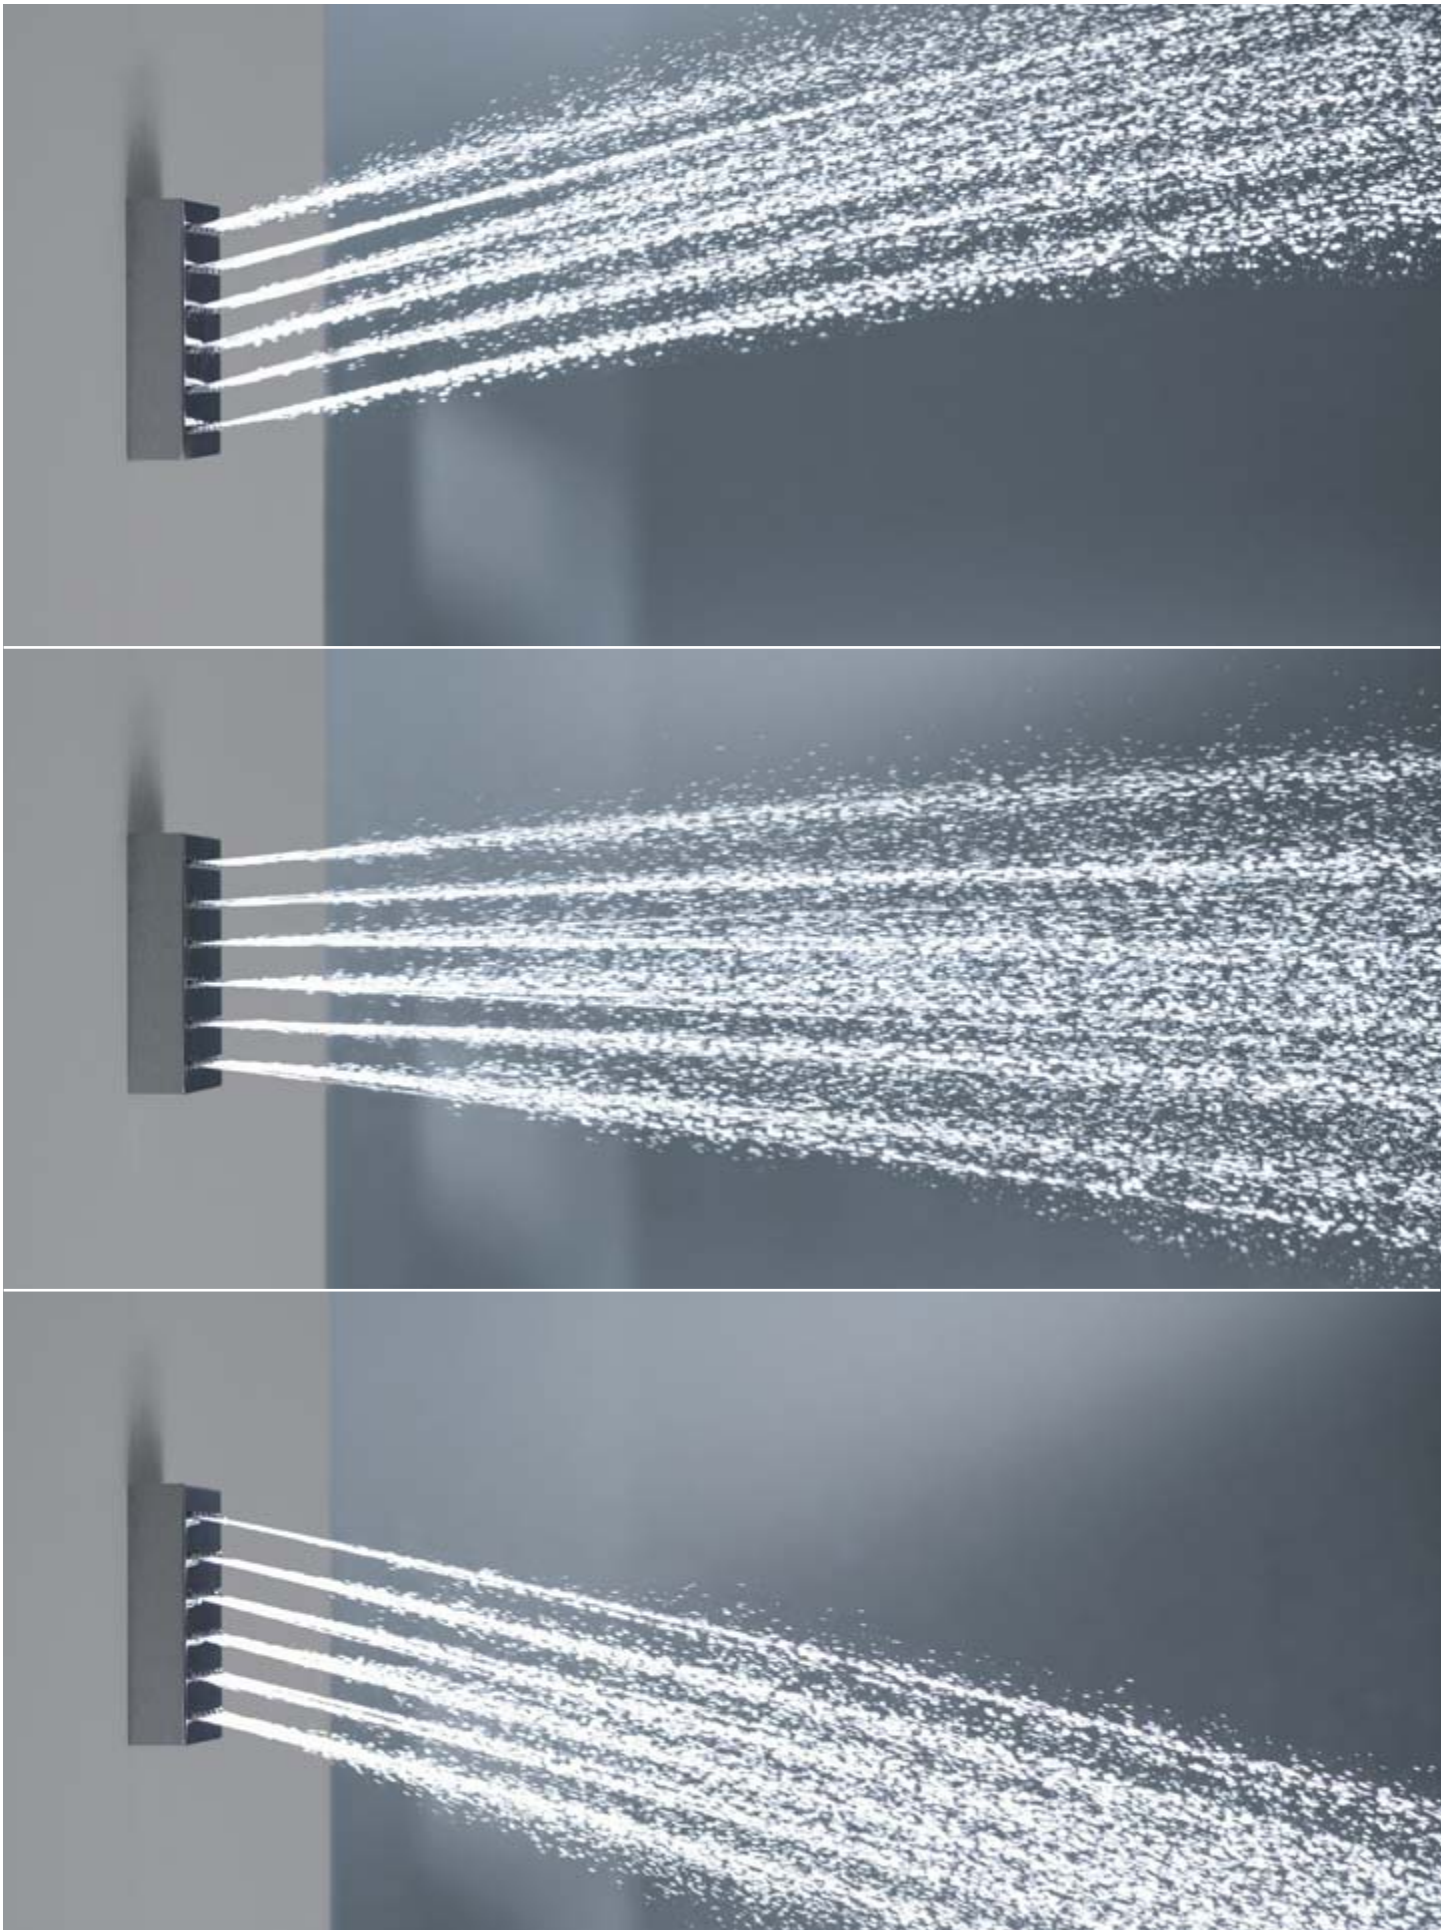

Accuracy, harmony and perfection. The consistent linear arrangement of this modular collection exudes elegance and style – harmonious down to the last detail.

The simpler the basic idea, the more varied the possibilities! Whether it be mixers, shelves, loudspeakers or lighting: the arrangement of the design elements is simply a question of personal needs and the preferred architectural concept.

The spray angle can be adjusted simply by sliding the shower modules. It can therefore be comfortably adjusted to different body heights and zones.

For individual needs and preferences: installed on the ceiling, the shower module is transformed into an overhead shower. Positioned on the wall, it becomes a shoulder or side shower.

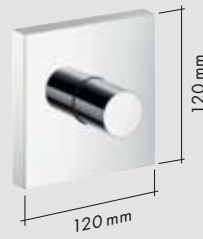

Simultaneously flexible and consistent: the Axor Starck ShowerCollection modules always provide a harmonious overall appearance – even when freely positioned. The hand shower module charms with its clean elegance.
